My space

After signing in and completing your profile, start from the Dashboard. My space brings your tools and discovery pages together.

Profile menu

Open your profile at the top of the page for your account, help and support. The mobile menu provides the same destinations.

Your language

Use the language selector to change the page language. Content and availability may vary; a missing translation does not change your permissions.

> A free account does not grant every professional permission. Tools depend on your profile, approvals and the services currently open. Do not bypass a missing or blocked page.

Help and support

Describe your issue and find replies here. This service covers BBQGarage; warranty and after-sales questions belong with the manufacturer or seller.

> Conversations take place here asynchronously. No phone calls or immediate response time is promised.

1. Open Help and support from your profile. Check your existing requests before creating a new one.
2. Choose a topic, write a clear subject and describe the steps that cause the problem.
3. Read and add replies inside the request. A new member reply reopens a resolved request.
4. Mark the request as resolved when the issue is fixed. Conversations remain private.

> Never send a password, login code, banking details or sensitive documents.
